

Helping your child manage BIG back-to-school feelings

The start of school can be exciting — but also nerve-wracking. Check out some expert-approved tips for helping your child head back to the classroom with confidence.

TIP 1

LISTEN

When your child shares a worry, let them know you are there to support them and listen no matter what.

TIP 2

BUILD IN SOME FLEXIBILITY

Remind your child they're not alone and everyone struggles before big changes like going back to school.

TIP 3

MAKE A PLAN

Come up with a plan together on ways to manage worries. For example, what to do if they think they're going to miss the bus.

TIP 4

FOCUS ON THE GOOD STUFF

What are some things they can look forward to, like a new movie or a trip? Remind them of the positive things in their life.

TIP 5

PRACTICE CALMING SKILLS

Practice breathing exercises together, so that when worries do come up, they have a strategy to help them calm down.

TIP 6

REMIND THEM — THEY'VE GOT THIS!

Remind your child of other times they faced their fears and things turned out okay. Help them remember what they did then.

Support your family's mental health with Brightline:

Fast access to personalized support — schedule video visits within days

Care from Experts with years of experience working with kids

Track your family's progress on our one-stop digital platform

Learn more at hellobrightline.com/signup/bts